A number of our anglers were out fishing on the first of April, all getting a mess of speckled beauties. Fishing being good in our streams good luck was had by all, Sonoma creek furnishing the best sport.

A large number of summer guests from San Francisco were here Sunday, among them a number of beautiful summer girls, who with their Easter bonnets, peek-a-boo stockings and white shoes made quite a hit in this town.

Among the prominent Sonomaites who attended the ball game at Boyes Springs Sunday were Mayor M. E. Cummings, Sam Lewis, Ben Pinder and Granville Harris. All were interested spectators and enjoyed bleacher seats.

Chas. Groskopf autoed to Boyes Springs from Vineburg Sunday in his new E. M. F. Charley makes an elegant chauffeur, but his car would look more beautifully decorated if he had some of Vineburg's belles instead of a load of male passengers from that burg. Get it, Easy Jim.

Billy Block, whom Easy Jim of Vineburg prophesized as a coming big leaguer, passed through here Sunday en route to Glen Ellen. Waiting for the north-bound train Willie gave the fans at this place a sample of his ball playing, which was not up to the standard. A number of our first-class ball players are to join the new club to be organized at Sonoma. George Block, our crack back stop, will be one of the new team and who, it is propesied by the writer, will be playing with the big leaguers some day.

The saloon building, formerly the old club saloon and owned by John Serres at this place, will soon be equipped and made a first-class barber shop. A chin scraper of note from San Francisco tells your reporter that it will be one of the finest barber parlors in Sonoma county.

The El Verano wrecking crew were out full force last Saturday taking out the wrecked auto from the bottom of the creek here. A large crowd assembled and through the good judgment of Senator Jim Baines, assisted by A. W. Weaver, the car was landed on terra firma a total wreck. The working crew all done their part well and were cheered by the people present.

A. H. Kemp was in San Francisco Sunday.

Charley Danieli and Frank La Franchi fished in Sonoma creek on the opening day and got the limit. They remembered the writer with several of the beauties, which he enjoyed immensely.

J. G. Brennon, Superintendent of the S. P. Co., passed through here last Sunday in the private car Stockton with other high officials. The gentlemen were on a tour of inspection.

While Mr. and Mrs. N. Dowdall and family were returning from church last Sunday the bolt holding the pole on the two-seated wagon broke. The horse becoming frightened started off at full speed, overturning the rig and throwing all the occupants out. Fortunately all escaped with a few minor bruises.

Cards are out announcing E. H. Cliff of chicken town for school trustee. As we go to print all chickenville is out, both women and men, headed by their political leader. They claim that their candidate is a sure winner. The election is today (Friday) and grandmother and father are being rushed to the polls to cast their ballots.

Among the promising young society chaps of this burg who attended the ball game Sunday were Albert Rossi, Charley Childs, John Basilou, J. Boche and the Revie brothers, all occupying gallery seats. They spent their time hooting the ball players to see if they couldn't shame them into playing ball.

Archie McKiver received a letter from his old friend Assemblyman Billy McDonald from Sacramento in which he says he is going to keep up the good work in the Legislative line. Mc is fighting the bill to crush prize fighting. He refereed a 20-round bout at Sacramento last Friday evening to show the faith he has in the manly art.

Miss Rosella Graham, formerly a popular Sonoma belle, was married at San Rafael last Friday to Hilary P. Bradley of Tiburon. Father Tozier performed the ceremony. After the marriage the couple returned to Tiburon where an elaborate supper was given by the bridegroom's mother. After an extended trip to Southern California the couple will return and make their home at Tiburon. Miss Graham is related to Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Graham of Boyes Springs, while the groom is a nephew of Mrs. L. H. Green of Sonoma.

Why not inaugurate a "City Beautiful" here, with a view of converting vacant lots from eyesores into beauty spots? It is not a new scheme but one that has been worked in many up-to-date towns, where the knockers, agitators and two-faced prohibitionists are just as numerous as they are in this burg. These can easily be squelched by the progressive citizens.

Supervisor J. H. Weise passed through here the latter part of the week and with the other Supervisors attended the banquet at Sacramento given by the Chamber of Commerce and also looked at the jail at that place, with a view of getting pointers on the new calaboose for Santa Rosa. Many other prominent citizens were on board the private car which conveyed them to the state capitol.

Howard Gregory, member of the Oaks baseball team and who owns a chicken ranch above town, having resided here all winter, is making good this season twirling for his team. Gregory has pitched several games already, winning them all. His many admirers here are glad to hear of his success as he made many friends while here. Gregory is a good fellow, as the saying goes—the e kind of fellows always make good. Your reporter wishes him success and hopes that he will again bring home the pennant.

The howling Prohibition sheet of Sonoma, the Expositor, is still sore at the world. It is afraid of a recall and the writer of the editorial threatened in last week's issue to print the names of the recall signers, showing what it thinks of a man's liberty in these United States, but take it from the writer if a recall petition is started that miserable sheet will have to get out an extra edition in order to print the names of all the signers, as this bluff is only laughed at here and the saying is that the sheet is full of wind.

The baseball game at Boyes Springs Sunday between the Olympics of the metropolis and the Seals was witnessed by a large crowd of baseball lovers. The game was a poor one and both sides played like a lot of school boys, making more noise than a flock of geese instead of playing ball. The ninth inning at last came, the score being nine to three in favor of the visitors. The pitchers seemed to have a hard time to locate the catcher not alone the plate and in all it was a huge laugh. The management will have to supply the paying public with better games than this or the gate receipts will dwindle down. It may have been an off day, but certainly it was tiresome.

ARCHIBALD MCKIVER.

JOHN WACK WINS OUT EASILY

Contests His Wife's Will Before Judge and Jury and Comes Into His Own.

After a brief deliberation a jury in Superior Judge Graham's court, San Francisco, decided on Friday of last week that Mrs. Mary Wack, deceased wife of John Wack, proprietor of Wack's Resort, Agua Caliente, was of unsound mind and acting under undue influence when she made a will in 1907, ignoring her husband and leaving her estate of $8000 to her cousin, Mrs. Caroline Walsh.

Wack contested his wife's will will and testified that she had been addicted to the excessive use of intoxicants for twenty years and had been mentally unsound for some years prior to her death on August 12th of last year. The testimony showed that the Wack's quarreled and separated, the husband giving the wife two lots in the Richmond district, in San Francisco. However, they became reconciled a month later and lived together until Mrs. Wack's death. The two pieces of property were never reconveyed to Wack and these constituted the bulk of the estate she willed to her cousin.

Under the jury's verdict the property will revert to the husband.

Ode to the Knocker

Now, here's to the knocker, the enterprise-knocker, the industry-shocker, whom we know so well! He stands on the corner, the asinines corner, the calamity warner, and raises his yell.

Of things that allure he's ready to cure; he'll always assure us they're really no good. "The whole dratted section"—just note the reflection—has missed its connection—I knew that it would!"

If your looking for blessing, his visage distressing and language depressing will give you a chill. He's the crystallized juices of divers abuses that only have uses in fostering ill.

The knocker in heaven would raise six or seven and paradise leaven with sprinklings of—well, 'twere folly to write it; I dare not indite it, for knockers would bite it as something to yell.

So here's to the knocker, the enterprise-blocker, the industry-shocker whom we know so well! He's known by the cures he freely disburses, and really the worst is—he's known by his smell.—Exchange.

"E Jim" Tells in an Interesting Way all About the Week's Happenings in and About His Section of the Valley.

April 1st fooled every body because it "blowed" itself

Mrs. Manuel Souza of Oakland was the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Silva. last week.

Miss Adele Andrieux was visiting friends in Petaluma last Thursday and returned home the same evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McDevitt of Sonoma and family were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Batto Sunday.

Enrico Forni still continues to make improvements around Pleasant Villa, preparing for the coming summer.

Mrs. Ferran of Oakland will be the guest of Mr and Mrs. August Rouquie at their home here the next two weeks.

Mrs. Otto Gericke and sons Otto and Bertrand were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Groscopf at "Whispering Pines," last Sunday.

Miss Lulu Dependener, the popular young school teacher of Glen Ellen, was the guest of her mother here Saturday and Sunday.

Fred. Batto, the merchant-banker, accompanied by his son, Fred. Batto, Jr, transacted business in the Bay City last Monday.

W. H. Hamilton arrived here on Monday's train for a visit with his family. Mr. Hamilton holds a fine position in San Francisco and owns a fine orchard near this burg.

Quite a number of our society people attended the dance at Potter's Hall on the Napa road last Friday night. All speak well of the pleasant time had and will go again.

Several of our society people attended the Native Sons ball in Glen Ellen on Saturday evening, and the young ladies who were there from here say the Glen Ellen Natives are all right.

Chas. E. Groskopf, the well-known chauffeur, and Arthur Batto took in all the points of interest in this valley Sunday afternoon and the new car worked like a charm. Leave that to Charlie.

Many improvements are being made at the Edlin Poultry Farm, Buena Vista, under the management of Otto Torm, who seems to know his business. About 1500 birds are there and more are coming.

Master Frederick Batto celebrated his eleventh birthday on Sunday last. About 16 of his schoolmates were entertained at an afternoon lunch, served by Mrs. Fred Batto, after which the young people played games to their heart's delight.

Sun day was a very fine day, but things were somewhat quiet here. Well, the National game had considerable to do with it as this burg appears to have the baseball fever, and is catching, not the balls, but the fever.

Cedric Cutter and Oscar Studley still continue to cut wood and Minnie Madden, who seems to take quite an interest in the two gents, says by the end of the week they would have a cord chopped. Good boys.

Two carloads of lumber. consigned to Geigrich & Callahan, arrived here this week. It contained 18,500 feet of choice lumber which they intend to use on the El Nedo Poultry Farm on the Hyde tract. Charles Groskopf, our popular teamster, has the contract to haul it.

Jas. L. Modini and Julius A. Poppe, Jr., passed through here at an early hour Tuesday morning en route to Caneros creek to see if they could entice the innocent trout to bite at their bait. Both are expert anglers but it all depends upon what kind of bait they use.

Eggs took quite a drop in a short time at Vineburg station on last Tuesday afternoon when a boss teamster thought he was handling a sack of coal, but found out it was a case of eggs. Results: seventeen dozen broke. If he did not save all he saved some as the case contained thirty dozen.

R. J. Arnold of the Monte Vista Poultry Yards on the Hyde tract donated a case of selected eggs to the Examiner on last Monday to be auctioned off for the benefit of the Ohio sufferers. He made the first bid ten dollars, but the amount raised on the case was a hundred dollars. Hyde tract eggs come high.

Several young ladies in this vicinity, that have more time than sense, devoted some of their time on April 1st in sending their gentlemen friends envelopes in which they enclosed sticky fly paper. We will admit, ladies, it is sometimes hard to catch a man, but we would advise you to use other means than Tanglefoot as the men are too fly.

CAPITAL OPERATION PROVES FATAL

Miss Victorine Lynch of Ukiah Passed Away on Friday of Last Week

Word was received here on Thursday of last week by R. E. Lynch, local manager of the California Telephone & Light Co., that his sister, Miss Victorine Lynch, who had been operated upon the previous Tuesday, was sinking rapidly and could not survive the operation. Mr. and Mrs. Lynch arrived in Ukiah on Friday but not before Miss Lynch passed away.

Miss Lynch had been a sufferer for years and in an attempt to secure relief an operation was decided upon. It was performed Tuesday and for a time it was hoped she would recover, but Friday she took a turn for the worse and the brother was summoned from Sonoma. With his wife he made the trip in an auto only to find that the end was at hand.

The deceased was a native of Ukiah, where she was born March 2, 1886. She was a faithful employee of the telephone company there for seven years, six of which she was the chief of the office force. The last year she had been deputy county auditor. She is survived by five brothers and three sisters, all of whom were at home when the end came.

The funeral was held Sunday. A large circle of friends unite in extending sympathy to the bereaved relatives.

Belle Brandon, the pretty girl editress of the Index-Tribune, who helps the writer in his editorial work, has received word that she has fallen heir to a large sum of money in the east, left to her by a rich uncle. She will depart soon to claim her fortune and during her absence Veronica Verano will take her place in corresponding for the Index-Tribune. No doubt Archie will shed a tear when the fair Belle leaves, but he will shed two when she returns with the fortune.

Pretty little Doris Baines, the bright daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Baines, won the chipped diamond ring given by the traveling vaudeville show at the El Verano Villa last Friday evening. Miss Baines received 1350 votes, while there were several contestants in the race. She is three years old, her birthday being last Saturday, which was a nice present for the happy event. The winner received a large majority, and the contest, which lasted four evenings, was both exciting and interesting.

The El Verano Development Association, one of the new progressive bodies of Sonoma county, has put a large electric light sign in front of its club rooms. The Association has many applicants on file for membership and this is one thing that was wanted in this town for the past twenty years. The old administration was opposed to everything but the new will make many improvements and all are working in harmony. Big things will be done and nothing will be overlooked when it comes to going ahead.

The large automobile bus which brought the Chicago White Soxs to the S. P. depot here one day last week from Boves Springs upon nearing the depot broke an axle. Word has been received here that the White Soxs manager claims the shock was the cause of losing to the Portland's at Santa Rosa. A good excuse is better than none, but the famous ball players didn't even know that the axle had snapped until they were told to get out by chauffeur Nels Long and walk the rest of the way which they really hated to do. That is all the shock they got.

HE MUST PAY FINE OR GO TO JAIL.

Judge Seawell Decides a Penalty Attaches to a Violation of the Roadhouse Ordinance

Charles Guidi, the hotel man of Kenwood, who was recently convicted by a jury in Judge Atchinson's court, Santa Rosa, and fined $150 or 150 days in jail for selling liquor without a license in the county outside incorporated cities or towns, must pay his fine or go to jail according to a ruling handed down by Judge Seawell on an appeal taken to the Superior Court

When convicted and sentenced in the Justice's Court Guidi appealed to the Superior Court, claiming that the initiative ordinance adopted by a vote of the people contained no penalty. The prosecution combatted this and argued that the law is amendatory only and that the penalty of the county ordinance which was amended is effective. Judge Seawell, in passing upon the appeal, sustained the latter contention.

Judge Seawell's opinion as follows:

"Defendant was convicted of engaging in the business of selling spirituous and intoxicating liquors in territory lying without the jurisdiction of a municipal corporation without first having obtained a license to do so. The only questions involved here grow out of the adoption by the people of what is known as the initiative ordinance, limiting the issuance of liquor licenses to persons who are engaged in conducting bona fide hotels, containing not less thirty-five sleeping apartments properly furnished for the accommodation of guests, etc. Said initiative legislation does not in terms prescribe a penalty for a violation of its provisions. Neither does it in mandatory terms require that a person desiring to sell liquors, should first obtain a license so to do. The enacting clause of the ordinance, however, shows very clearly that its purpose is to limit the issuance of liquor licenses in territory lying without municipal corporations to bona fide hotel keepers.

It is equally clear that the ordinance does not purport to be a complete scheme for the regulation or prohibition of the liquor traffic. It simply attempts to legislate on one phase of a given subject upon which no prior legislation has been secured. It is but supplemental to existing ordinances adopted by the Board of Supervisors. The legal sufficiency of the initiative ordinance is now under consideration by the Supreme Court of the State. If it should be declared void then it must be admitted defendant is guilty of the offense charged against him. On the other hand, if it be declared valid, the court is of the opinion that said initiative ordinance does not nullify all initiative ordinances and statutes heretofore enacted for the regulation of the liquor traffic where no conflict exists.

"Statutes must be construed together, giving to each part a reasonable construction. Legislative intent is of paramount importance. Apparently slight inconsistencies must be harmonized if such can be done without doing violence to the clear meaning of language. If a statute is susceptible of two or more constructions the one that comports with reason and which would naturally tend to attain the manifest object of the people must be adopted rather than one which would defeat or subvert the will of the people.

"It is therefore ordered that the judgment of the lower court be affirmed and that the judgment of affirmances be certified to the court below, that it may proceed to enforce its sentence."

GLEN ELLEN AND VICINITY

Items Gleaned by our Live Awake Reporter the Last Week

Jack Gottenberg of Sonoma was in town Wednesday.

Joe Trusty says he is not feeling well. Officer, please.

U. Griechan was a visitor to Sonoma last Wednesday.

John Donahue, prominent orchardist of Bennett Valley, was in town Monday.

Bert Howard, noted piano player of the Mervyn Inn, returned from his week's engagement at the Oakland Orpheum last Sunday night.

If this rumor can be given credence some selfish individual has a seine of fish nets in the creek about two miles above town. There is room for a live game warden up here.

The local nine will play the Santa Rosa baseball team in that city next Sunday. A large delegation of fans will accompany the local team to the City of Roses.

The stork arrived at the ranch of Mr. and Mrs. Jack London last Friday afternoon, leaving two kids. Upon being interviewed, Jack said he was very sorry that they were goats.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Jackson and daughters, Misses E. and M. Jackson, and Miss B. Lynch were week end visitors here. They have a host of friends in our village and are always welcome

An unusal large number of anglers were on hand to whip the local streams on the opening day of the season last Tuesday. Those most successful were Griff, largest fish 3½ pounds and A. Cheffers, largest string.

Those who showed good judgment in ordering their suits from our local tailor, A. Cheffers, the past week were Rev. G. E. Chase, J. Fern and L. Vish. Don't wait until the eleventh hour to follow suit. Now is the time.

Paul Bradley, who relieved Greeley in the fifth inning last Sunday, showed great form, even though he hadn't pitched a ball since last season. Watch this baby. The feature of the game was a one hand stab of a liner by second baseman Craib.

At the last minute of this writing manager H. P. Trusty has returned from Boyes Springs wearing a smile as big as a house. Take it from me he has secured some special talent for next Sunday to fill in a couple of weak spots in the line-up.

Jack London has purchased E. Rankin's entire blacksmith shop and is moving the same to his ranch Keep up the good work, Jack, and you will soon have the whole town up there. A couple of more loads would take it all as it stands at present.

Archie McKiver's Beau Brummel of El Verano, Wm. Block, who played left field, is some beau with the ladies—fast as a bullet and he's there a million. The local boys will take notice and keep strings around their ladies when Bill shows up here.

The grand ball which was given by the N. S. G. W. last Saturday night was one grand success in every way. An unusally large crowd was on hand and all had a delightful time. A chicken dinner was served at 11:30 p. m. by the chef, Don Jose Trusty, and old Don sure did tickle everybody's palate with that barnyard meat. We all await the next one.

The Rai-Nuts of San Francisco defeated the Glen Ellen nine on the local diamond Sunday. Score, 10 to 1. Owing to the unusual circumstances the locals did well. Bob Harber, our left fielder, failed to report; second baseman J. Trusty had his hand injured by being bit by a dog and right fielder Cheffers turned an ankle the day before the game. These men were substituted and that weakened the team. If manager Trusty had jerked Greely in in the fourth inning the locals would have won. No one is dismayed, as we know the weak spots and these will be bolstered up at once.

HAPPY.

New Writers at the Sonoma Public Library

It may not be amiss to call special attention to certain of the writers whose books have recently appeared for the first time on the Sonoma public library shelves.

Louis Tracy writes tales of enthralling and sometimes puzzling plots, with fine handling of scenery dialogue and character. Those who like McCutcheon and MacGrath will perhaps find Tracy even their superior.

Mrs. Mary Stewart Cutting is deemed one of the very finest American writers of stories based on everyday normal human life. She handles character as few popular writers do, and her tales appeal to the lover of pictures of average but interesting domestic and social life.

Eugene Lyle writes vigorous Western stories, full of the adventure and the dash of the prairies.

E. Phillips Oppenheim is one of the most prolific and most popular novelists of the day. While his stories are often "detective" tales, they are usually founded on incidents in the most picturesque settings in modern European life, and are handled with a master hand. A leading American critic says, "Cleverer work has been done since Conon Doyle made Sherlock Holmes famous."

Mrs. Gaskell, the author of the celebrated "Cranford," is represented by "Mary Barton," her greatest novel, which ranks among the very finest in English. Those who like Mrs. Humphrey Ward should read this by an older woman-writer of even greater fame.

Henry Sienkiewicz's "Pan Michael" pictures a time and characters very different from his famous "Quo Vadis;" it presents the Poland of the 16th century, in its efforts to preserve its national existence, and is a very powerful picture of the horrors of war at the close of the mediaeval period.

S. Weir Mitchell's "Constance Trescott" will be welcomed by all who like a quiet, scholarly, refined American story, with character drawing the most important factor.

"Charles Auchester," by E. Berger, was one of the most eagerly read stories of a few years ago, and will be enjoyed by nearly everyone who enjoyed the "First Violin," which is still one of the frequently read books, spite of being forty years old or more.

Those who have read and enjoyed Ellen Glasgow's "Voice of the People," the 'Deliverance," etc., will be glad to read "The Ancient Law," characterized by all the good qualities of her other books.
